AMERICAN POLICY IN CHINA

Still Determined to Withdraw Troops at An Early Date.

Latest Documents to be Given Out Tomorrow-Chaffee is Ready-Von Waldersee Reviews Troops.

Washington, Sept. 22 .- The state department has decided to defer until tomorrow morning the publication of answers it has returned to the various powers relative to the Chinese situation. This is done from a desire to carry out the traditional practice of the department which allows fortyeight hours to clapse after the delivery of a note, before making it public in our own country, even though publication may have been made abroad before that time.

There is no reason to change the estimate of the note formed yesterday, to the effect that it amounts to a declination of the German proposition and provides for the reduction of the United States military contingent in China to a strong legation guard, just sufficient to ensure the safety of the legation in the event of a recurrence of rioting in Pekin, or the safe withdrawal of the minister to Tien Tsin or some other convenient port. It is not intended that the military force shall be employed in further offensive operations.

WITHDRAWING FROM CHINA.

The order for the reduction of the military force under General Chaffee has not yet been issued, but it is admitted at the war department that it may go forward a any moment. Secretary Root already has stated that pre-liminary orders were sent to General Chaffee fully two weeks ago directing chance fully two weeks ago directing him just how to act in case he should receive orders to withdraw completely or partially from China, and it is expected that he has perfected his arrangements and selected the organizations which are to remain. The contiderable force of treatment of the contiderable force of the case of the c siderable force of marines, numbering about 1,000 in all, which have been operating under General Chaffee's com-mand, are to be taken from Taku to Cavite. The place where the negotiations are to be held has not yet been definitely settled upon. Li Hung Chang was by terms of the edict appointing him an envoy, directed to proceed to Pekin, but it is noted here that he had taken up his quarters with a numerous guard in that town under conditions that appeared to warrant the belief that he expected to stay there for some time, thus forecasting the conduct of the negotiations at Tien Tsin.

PASSENGER TRAIN

Spokane, Wash., Sept 22.-Single handed a masked robber held up the west bound passenger train on the Northern Pacific at 1 o'clock this morning and succeeded in getting away with between $400 and $500 in cash, several watches and a quantity of jewelry. The robbery occurred after the train left Athol, Idaho, and the lone robber left the train at Rathdrum. The hold-up was evidently carefully planned, and was executed with a cool deliberation which showed the robber thoroughly understood his business. Until he left the train few of the passengers realized that only one man was in the plot. Conductor Dunning was the only person on the train who offered serious resistance and a few shots from the robber's gun effectually silenced the trainman. As the robber stepped off the train at Rathdrum the conductor came out of the turist car and fired twice at the robber. The latter returned the fire, clipping a piece of leather from the conductor's shoe. No one was hurt during the hold-up, but every occupant of three cars was terrorized. The man boarded the train at Sand Point, Idaho, where a short stop was made. He is described as being a little over five feet in height, of slight build, had a light mustache, and wore a dark suit of clothes, a mask and a black slouch but Affer the transfer Athel he gained hat, After the train left Athol he gained the rear of the second Pullman sleeper and at once began operations. From bunk to bunk he worked, waking up the sleepers and demanding their valuables while covering them with a formidable looking revolver. Upon his arm he carried a short sack made of a coat sleeve. For some reason he did not use the sack, but slipped money and valuables into his pockets.

After clearing up both Pullmans the robber entered the tourist car. Here the occupants began to scream with ter-ror, and attracted the attention of the canductor, who was in the forward part of the coach. He came down the aisle and the robber backed out of the car door and stepped off the platform as the train was pulling into Rathdrum. Drawing his revolver, the conductor fired twice at the man, who at once turned and fired three times at the conductor, who beat a hasty retreat into the car. The robber escaped before the alarm could be given to the few people at the Rathdrum station.
